

FRONTIER SERVICES CONSTITUTION

UNITING CHURCH IN AUSTRALIA

FRONTIER SERVICES

1. NAME

- 1.1 The name of the organisation is Uniting Church in Australia Frontier Services
- 1.2 This constitution for Frontier Services is a revision of the former constitution of Frontier Services and continues the work of Frontier Services as set out in its original constitution.

2. DEFINITIONS

In this constitution unless the context otherwise requires:

- 2.1 "Assembly Standing Committee" means the Standing Committee appointed by the Assembly of the Uniting Church in Australia.
- 2.2 "Board" means the Board of Frontier Services;
- 2.3 "Frontier Services" means the organisation established by this constitution and prior constitutions and the same organization is now governed by this constitution following its adoption;
- 2.4 "Church" means The Uniting Church in Australia;
- 2.5 "National Director" means the National Director of Frontier Services as appointed from time to time by the Assembly Standing Committee;
- 2.6 "Assembly" means the triennial Assembly of the Uniting Church.
- 2.7 "Tax Deductible Gifts" means gifts of money or property to which Subdivision 30A of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 applies and includes any money received because of such gifts.

3. OPERATING PRINCIPLES:

Frontier Services will operate on the basis of the following principles:

- 3.1 To offer services and ministry in the name of Christ to the people of remote Australia through compassionate care, justice and nurture of the spirit.
- 3.2 Within the mission of the Assembly of the Uniting Church, to fulfil the purpose of Frontier Services which is to provide public benevolent services in the remote areas of Australia in the belief that under God:
 - (a) reconciliation will become reality;
 - (b) hope will replace anxiety and despair;
 - (c) justice and equity will build community,

(d) everyone will have access to the services they need,

(e) as we journey together....

4. OBJECTS:

The objects of Frontier Services are:

4.1 To provide public benevolent services to the frontier areas of the inland and other geographically and socially isolated parts of Australia.

To provide such public benevolent services regardless of class, creed and colour, giving particular attention to indigent, handicapped and socially and geographically isolated people.

To provide such public benevolent services to Aboriginal people with special regard to the social and economic problems created by cultural differences.

To provide such public benevolent services as an expression of Christian charity and concern so that all such services are publicly given on a non profit basis.

4.2 To carry out activities approved by the Board from time to time including:

Outback Clinics and Nursing Services: established in isolated areas and new communities in consultation with Government Health Departments and the communities concerned,. No charges are made for treatment.

Aged Care and Community Care Services: established in remote areas where no other care for the frail aged or younger people with a disability exist.

Children's Services: established in remote areas to provide early childhood development and other support to families who have limited or no access to mainstream services.

Itinerant Nursing Services: operating in isolated areas in cooperation with Australian Government and State Health Departments. Nursing staff travel to families and communities and no charges are made for treatment.

Hostels (Student Group Homes): established to provide accommodation for children who, because of their isolation, are forced to leave home to attend school (Refer letter from Australian Taxation Office 29 January 1985).

Community Support Services: established to provide counseling, advisory and emergency responses to families and individuals in remote communities where other services are not available.

Patrols: Patrol Ministers are appointed by the Uniting Church in Australia Frontier Services to fulfil its mission and that of the National Assembly. They generally work on an itinerant basis within the remote regions of the continent serving communities and all individuals in a variety of ways which may include personal support, community development, chaplaincy and visitation, as part of the commitment of the church to continue to support all those who live and work in regions where traditional ministry is not sustainable due to both remoteness and scarcity of people.

Miscellaneous: Such other activities as may be from time to time be deemed expedient and which fall within the term "Public Benevolence" as used in S.78(1)(a) of the Income Tax Assessment Act; provided that no funds may be applied to such other activities unless or until the approval of the Commissioner of Taxation is given.

4.3 To do all such acts and activities as are conducive to the furtherance of the above objects including;

(a) the acquisition of land and buildings by purchase or lease;

- (b) the raising of funds by borrowing or other means approved by the Church including the acceptance of gifts and donations.
